Township Register

49 YEARS OLD — FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1937 — No. 25

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Most energetic of the ladies on Second street in Niles, in the matter of gardening, is Mrs. Ernest Martin. Invariably, on our way to the post office in the morning, we pass Mrs. M. raking or hoeing or sweeping around some shrub.

Chick Burdick went up to the Livermore celebration last week end and proved that Joe Pashote and his Newark baseball enthusiasts have overlooked a bet for their team. Burdick went home with Kewpie dolls and Mickey Mice and goodness knows what else as the result of getting the nigger baby with a baseball nine times in succession.

The Lions club has the right idea in its queen contest this year. Each candidate for honors at the Township Fair is to be sponsored by some township organization and these organizations will have full charge of making rules for the contest and of counting the votes.

* * * *

The new highway along the edge of Niles is to be opened one of these days. Somebody has suggested that we communicate with the governor and plan a celebration. Others, who recall the opposition to the new route, suggest a public crape hanging.

Our personal feeling is that the community should take no special note of the change one way or the other. It is not going to injure us seriously and neither is it going to benefit us. The money was spent here by the federal government without our solicitation and relatively little of it found its way into local pockets.

Whether the change will mean a greater degree of safety in highway travel remains to be seen. We suggest that the community reserve judgment on it.

Advertising is a problem these days, says Thor Nordvik of Newark and Alvarado. "With this weeks issue we are starting a fifty two weeks advertising campaign in the Township Register because it has the greatest Township circulation and we want to reach all our customers with our message each week".

The Township Register feels grateful in Mr. Nordvik's choice for advertising medium, and hope that results will be beneficial.

A Successful Harvest

Cherry growers are feeling better already! The '37 harvest is drawing to a close. Prices have been the best in many a long year. It hardly seems believable, but we have gone through the picking without a "cherry rain" to split and crack the crop. The only dark feature was that in many orchards yield were light. Problems of the industry such as combatting cherry die-back, gummosis, and dark beetle, as well as failure to set crop will receive closer attention this coming year. We believe that the whole subject of pollination of cherries needs investigation under our conditions both as to bees and number, kind and location of pollenizers, and that we might expect to find out things which would greatly increase this valuable crop.

Our Favorite View

A farmer usually feels that the view out of the windows of his house is the finest view on earth. It shows often the accomplishment of years of faithful work, and represents the dream of his youth come true.

We think the finest view in our Township is from the road by Tony Escobars' gate, midway between Morrison Canyon and the foot of

JOE BROWN ON NILES SCREEN

NILES—Joe E. Brown—he of the mammoth mandibles—is in town tonight and tomorrow at the Niles theatre in a screaminvly funny sketch entitled "When's Your Birthday"? The piece purports to be a history of the hardships of a modern oracle who foretells everything from winning horses to the effects of lumbago cure.

Brown is said to be his sappiest and he is supported by a cast of sure fire comedians. Gene Autry finishes out the program with one of his musical westerns.

Sunday and Monday will see Walter Winchell, the wise guy of Broadway, and band beating Ben Bernie air their famous feud in a show entitled "Wake Up and Live". They also have able support in the persons of various cuddly females and handsome young fellows.

The picture contrats pleasantly with the other half of the program which is called "You Can't Get Away With It". This is an explanation of federal G-Man methods designed to show anyone toying with the idea of crime, that there is considerable risk involved. Even if you aren't planning to be a criminal, it won't hurt you to see this picture.

Wednesday and Thursday of next week brings two comedies. Jean Arthur and George Brent—both of them handsome and clever, appear in "More Than A Secretary". The plot is negligible but the acting is expert. Anyone who likes navy pictures will like the other half if the bill, "Navy Blues".

SYSTEM SUGGESTED FOR COOLING DRINKS

Cooling, refreshing drinks that can be prepared at a moment's notice are a requisite for warm afternoons and the long, pleasant summer evenings—and plenty of pure, crystal-clear ice is a prime necessity for mixing them satisfactorily.

If one will keep an emergency shelf in the air-conditioned ice refrigerator stocked with "punch possibilities", and a full measure of pure ice on hand, delicious, frosty fruit drinks can be prepared easily and immediately.

On this emergency shelf you should have stored away a jar or two of sugar syrup and several bottles of fruit juices, such as raspberry, loganberry, grape, pineapple, grapefruit and lime. On your pantry helf you should have jars and cans of malted, evaporated, condensed and powdered milk to give variety and added nourishment to your summer beverages.

You can always have a plentiful supply of pure ice cubs on hand by means of a simple ice cuber, made for ice refrigerators, that will make in five minutes all the ice cubes you will ever want.

Determined a Newspaper of General Circulation by Decree of the Superior Court (Department 6) of Alameda County, California.

Congressman Carter is sponsoring a bill for the survey and reopening of Alameda creek channel to the bay.

This measure is worthy of much local support, as it will prevent flooding in years of heavy rainfall.

When the new building for the Niles school is laid out, it should be done in such a way that a junior high school may be erected when the demand for such a structure becomes necessary.

We doubt if a junior high is needed just yet but it will be some day. This section is due for a lively population growth in a few years.

Every support should be given by all township organizations for the Lions club fair. The Lions have always been successful in their undertakings and entertainments. They have brought much outside business to Township.

Editor, "Township Register"
Niles, Calif.

Dear Sir:

In all rural towns and trading communities, from time to time, there is a "trade at home" drive; and nearly always there is an argument that prices are the same, or practically the same, all things considered, and other sound reasons. Such drives perhaps always have some effect for a time but it soon fades out and trading elsewhere continues.

There may be other reasons, but it seems to the writer that there is one very strong reason for this failure of communities to do what the local tradespeople themselves are responsible for, namely, inefficiency, too much of the time, or lax attitude.

To this writer's observation in many "country" districts this is so from the merchant down to the bootblack, if one may assume there are classes. The country tradesman takes it upon himself to say what services and courtesies the customer should have, and like even when they are unsatisfying, and winds up the transaction with an apparent mild indifference to the customers attitude. It won't do. It drives people away, even when they do not know themselves, just what it is that leaves them in a dissatisfied frame of mind, although many do know.

In the metropolitan centers it is different, as any point of contact from the bootblack to whoever, to use the general term again, Service and courtesy are apparently the watchwords, the city tradesmen are no more slavish than the country tradesmen, but they do not mean sycophancy, but courtesy, which latter term derives from the same root words as civility, carries a confirmation that to many passing things, politeness, you please, thank you, and the like, are the smallest affairs, very much significant. Englishmen illustrations could be given of inefficiency in small trade, even down to unfriendliness, when not intended to offend, but in general will prefer to say the indicated by recalling attention to the well-known fact that where a countryman, even from the towns goes to a city to work, in any line, he knows how to "get around" corners knocked off. Even though he may have acquired a dislike of, why not try it at home, instead of all, it is in the same and don't forget that the customer is always right, when we know our trade some generosity is present. Secondly, from his point of view he is right, for his business is to hold him, not simply to win an "argument", even an unspoken one.

Yours truly,
D. K. Watkins.

SAN FRANCISCO
The City
by
The Golden Gate

From high over the wind-swept city,
A panorama far below,
Is spread in the fading twilight
As I watch the lingering glow.
When suddenly bright lights appear (And my heart with rapture thrills)
As myriad fire flies they shine,
On the city's seven hills.

Then I gaze across the city
To the horizon's farthest rim;
O'er the rugged peaks in the distance,
Veiled in chiffon, so frail and dim.
Like mighty sentinels they stand
Guarding the city and me,
Eternal monarchs that arise
From the depths of the mighty sea.

Once again I view the city
While crossing the silent bay;
When a great triumphant painting
Is displayed at the close of day.
Gleams from their flaming tapers
The starry night unfurled.
Thus illumined the wide-spread canvas,
Hung on the rim of the world.

I watched as the darkness deepened
The pageant that ended too soon;
Then emerged a silver pathway,
Shimmering off to a crescent moon;
Then over the darkened sky-line,
A mirage, at this witching hour—
For emblazoned upon the cloud banks,
Was the light from a golden tower.

I watched 'Till the last beam faded,
Save the tower and the orb of light;
While the little boat—and the waters,
Were wrapped in the folds of Night!

HOT WATER
at any hour... day or night

THIS is no time to neglect the fact that it is no time to waste money. You do neither when you heat water by means of an Automatic Gas Water Heater. After all, it should be obvious, being proved in thousands of California homes, that you spend to save when you have an Automatic installed in your home. Consider this: If you are using a water heater that has to be lighted with a match, and you also reset it a few times a day, every gallon so heated costs twice as much as it would if hot water were always on tap from the insulated tank of an Automatic.

You should also investigate this form of saving in your home. You should take advantage of the low prices of these truly modern Automatic Water Heaters. Prices have never been so low, and right now special easy-to-purchase terms are in effect.

See a representative of this company today or consult your local gas appliance dealer. An Automatic can be purchased for as little as Three Dollars a Month. Act now on this thrift-wise suggestion.

Masonic Home News
by JAMES H. HEATH

MASONIC HOME, June 14—In the planning for their annual picnic in Linda Vista Park, Sunday, the East Bay Sciots comprising the Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Richmond pyramids were so kind as to remember the Sciots who are numbered among the 350 residents of the Masonic Home.

This they did by inviting them to be their guests at the picnic, providing transportation and lunch along with other courtesies. And they surelv made no mistake in naming John Carse, past toparch of Alameda pyramid, as chairman of the committee detailed to take care of the Masonic Home contingent.

Upon arrival at the park they were welcomed by Past Toparch Carse and his committee and directed to a table in the civic center of activities for a very fine lunch. They were also regaled with guest badges and told to retain the comylimentary admission tickets for the drawing of prizes.

And then, just before leaving for Decoto another service of refreshments was provided. Through the day the Masonic Home Sciots and their ladies were made to feel that they were guests in fact as well as in name. The only disappointment was in not hearing the number of their admission tickets called in the drawing for prizes, which was made at 4 p. m.

The host Sciots, from Allen Cundy, Deputy Pharoah down, showed the Masonic Home every consideration, all of which proved their sincerity as outlined in the toast appearing in the printed programs.

"To our beloved guests from Decoto Home we wish you a most enjoyable day with us. Your happiness is ours, and we hope you will be guests of the East Bay Pyramids for many picnics to come".

The Home delegation, in which seven Pyramids were represented, was in charge of Elmer W. Barnes, a member of Oakland Pyramid and to whom a vote of thanks was extended. According to Deputy Pharoah Cundy, chairman of the executive committee, the attendance at the picnic was 1600 or as much again as last year.

NEW ICE COMPANY OPEN FOR BUSINESS AT CENTERVILLE

CENTERVILLE—Opening of a new independent ice company was announced here this week by A. T., H. D. and R. E. Faucett, refrigeration men from San Jose. The plant's valuation is in the neighborhood of $35,000, the Faucetts say. They plan to add equipment until it has a value of $60,000.

The new plant, which is in the outskirts of Centerville, behind the Kolb estate, has been in the process of building for several months.

The Faucett brothers plan house to house ice deliveries in all parts of the township.

They believe the need for prompt service in this district provides a field for a concern such as theirs.

Escobar grade and looking towards Mission Peak. It always reminds us of that ledge in the movie, "Green Pastures", from which "De Lawd" looked out from heaven over the glories and the beauty of the young world.

A Busy Corner of Our State

We spent a morning last week at Bakersfield and in the country around it. This section of our state has been growing rapidly and now the town of Bakersfield alone contains more than 60,000 people. Peach, plum and apricot trees have already been picked and the crop chipped to market. Spurred by unusual profits in cotton and potatoes last year, a very rapid agricultural development is under way. To the east of town, on the plains which in the past were half desert pastres, more than 13 sections of land in a single block have been put under irrigation and planted to cotton this year . Similar and even greater development has occured in other directions. So large has been the influx of new people that today 13 students in the public schools, out of every 100, have arrived from Oklahoma and neighboring areas in the very recent past.

On the one hand these new immigrants, most of whom by the way are not negroes, have made possible the harvesting of the greatly expanded potato and citton crops. On the other, they have brought extraordinary problems of housing, sanitation and relief. Many live in tents or the flimsiest of houses, in detached settlements scattered over unused land throughout the area. Abundant water and the hot sun produce an exceptionally verdant vegetation at this season.

Oil still remains the most important of industries and the forests of oil derricks are always somewhere in sight. Some of the local wells are now over two miles deep and the oil fields appear to lie one above the other. Every farmer figures some day his land will produce the wealth giving flow. The name of Bunting is associated with that country in the discovery of this great natural resource.

Speed

South of Bakersfield the state highway runs for more than 17 miles in a straight line with no side roads intersecting through an empty desert country. Such a road is an irresistable challenge to many motorists. A Bakersfield citizen, recently returning from Los Angeles with a car of recent make, was tempted to "open 'er up" on this stretch of road.

Finally the pursuing cop managed to get within siren distance. At the side of the road them otorist greeted the cop pleasantly with the remark, "Did you think I was going a little fast?" "Oh no", the Cop said, "I'm not giving you a ticket for speeding, I just figured that you were flying a little bit tio low".
